

Bold Lead Designs, LLC

The entrepreneurial spirit is exemplified in Bold Lead Designs, a manufacturer of handcrafted leather dog leashes and service dog equipment. In just nine years, the company has risen from its residential basement roots on Havana Street to its own warehouse in central Aurora, producing products for pet owners, canine professionals and service dog handlers in more than 30 countries worldwide. Providing beautiful and functional solutions to dog equipment dilemmas worldwide, Bold Lead Designs makes everything by hand at their Aurora workshop while using the best quality leather and hardware available. Domestic suppliers provide the American cattle hides used for every collar and leash, which are backed by a lifetime warranty. Owner Katrina Boldry has built her business on both passion for the product and a solid foundation of ethics. The company's success is evident in its increasing gross sales year after year. From 2013 to 2014, Bold Lead Designs experienced a 32.5 percent increase in gross sales and net income rose 135 percent. To serve the needs of customers, new products are created and introduced each year, including most recently The Perfect Pace no-pull training tools. The company contributes to nonprofit service dog organizations and rescue groups.
